Hello,

My name is Ron Clark, and I am the Executive Director for Kairos Church Planting Support. I want to take this time to thank you for partnering with us in National Church Planting Sunday, May 21, 2023. We are partnering with University Church of Christ in Tuscaloosa, AL to create awareness of the mission to Plant New Churches For New People In New Places.

We are excited about this event and know that God is moving through planting new churches throughout the US. The call to reach people with the Good News is Jesus' call to our churches, and planting new churches and campus ministries is one way to fulfill this great commission. You are joining other churches and individuals for this special day.

In this packet you have information that will help prepare you for this Sunday. We will build momentum through forty days of prayer for church planting and campus ministries. We have included a QR Code that people can use to find our site and donate to Kairos. We are also providing a link for a flier for this Sunday event which can be distributed within your congregation and outreach groups. Next week we will be following up with a phone call and a video which can be used for a Sunday morning class or worship service. Later you will receive a packet that will have resources for sermons, communion talks, Sunday School classes, children's classes, and small group discussions.

We are excited about what God will do among our churches and campus ministries this May, and in the coming years. We are also praying for you as we walk this journey together and partner to fulfill the Great Commission of Jesus.

God bless you this week.

In Christ,

Ron Clark, D.Min.
